HIGHLIGHTS / ACHIEVEMENTS

- At Thomson Reuters, amongst with the team, I proposed, designed, implemented and maintained a component to centralize access to settings and configuration through the whole system, gaining notorious velocity even on other team's deliveries, decreasing complexity in development, making the whole system more robust, decoupled and reliable.
- At Thomson Reuters I designed, implemented and maintained the FTA Analyzer – a subsystem which calculates best trading fees and taxes, saving millions of dollars yearly to subscribers of this subpart.
- At Ideológica I designed the new architecture for the evolving legacy, based on .Net Restful APIs with C#, which was a great step from the Monolithic legacy application, which lead to mor efficient development process, saving time and resources to the company.
- At Ituran I delivered the integration between the main telemetry fleet software and the CRM, based on SQL procedures triggered from the first one. This integration provided Fleet Management teams more reliable and up to date information basis, leading to a significant increase in the car rental market business effectiveness, boosting company's market share even more. Also solely headed LatAm operation, supporting development teams from Argentina and Mexico.
- At Casare.me I created the Avatar tool with Coffee Script and JQuery manipulating the Couple's avatar SVG. This feature increased the company's market share, leading competitors to try creating a similar feature. I also improved the company's landing page rate in Google's PageSpeed Insights to 100%, boosting significantly the company's performance in search engines, increasing drastically company's new customer prospecting.
- I created the Windows Phone C# with XAML versions of a few image handling, data learning and Augmented Reality Apps for VTX Brasil, which qualified the company to participate in Acelera Partners, Brazilian Microsoft's startup acceleration program.
